HERTEL WRITES LUTH. STANDARD SPORTS ARTICLE

Athletics Not Over-Emphasized in ALC Church Schools.

That athletics are not over-emphasized in the church schools, is the opinion expressed in the Dec. 4 issue of the Lutheran Standard, by E. W. Hertel, director of physical education at Wartburg.

In order to obtain information, questionnaires were sent to the five colleges supported by the American Lutheran church. It was found that in all but one, one school offers a few small scholarships for athletics. These are awarded the same as scholarships for proficiency in music and other subjects. Many students this year went to other places where they were offered more financial aid.

Four of the five schools list athletics as a major activity. All of them offer football, basketball, baseball. Some also have tennis, hockey, and track. Intramural sports in inter-collegiate, as well as, intramural, college, soldiers, and the like. The colleges are members of different competitive conferences.

A minor in physical education is offered at Wartburg and Carroll. Both of these schools do not list such courses as Introduction to Physical Education, Technique of Games, Recreational Activities, or even a program not able to be major in coaching in any of our church colleges. The only physical training at some of the colleges is calisthenics and the playing of games.

I feel sure that after considering the fact, we cannot say that our Lutheran colleges over-emphasize athletics. In fact, we have given attention, only by some members of the faculty, to the extra-curricular sports, a criticism which in itself should answer the question whether the place too much stress on athletic activities, asserts Coach Hertel.

He continues, "Organized sports have come to stay; they are becoming a necessary and colorful part of our life, but at best, are, and we hope will remain, only one phase of the extra-curricular activities which are designed to aid a student in obtaining the maximum of benefit from his college course."

Mr. Hertel has a bachelors' degree from Peru State Teachers College and a master's degree from the University. He has been instructor at Lincoln high school, Neb., and instructor in sciences and physical education at Hebrew Union College, New York. He is now head of the biology department and director of physical education at Wartburg college, Waverly, Iowa.

LETTER AWARDS ARE GIVEN OUT

Eighteen Football Men Get Letters in Convocation Exercises.

The culmination of Wartburg's football season came last Thursday evening when eighteen members of the garrison were presented their letter awards by President Brueck. The happy occasion was opened by singing the Alma Mater by the band.

Following the singing, the letters were given to the following men: Ernest Opperman, Leonard Donbie, Herbert Kirchdoerfer, Richard Wagner, John Ellsworth, John Johnson, Paul Wenske, Stanley Rosser, Wilmuth Freihling, Cletus Bergman, Martin Distinger, Leslie Staats, Ed. M. Johnson, John J. Jimmerson, Robert Wagner, Carl Ellsworth, Gartner Wagner, and Paul Brauck.

"W" club sweater were presented to Arnold Kuester, Carl Ellermeyer, and Ed Harde.

Receiving Captain, John Ellsworth, sent a telegram to the letter award winners.

He said: "I am very pleased to receive your telegram. I am sorry to let you know that the letter award is given to the end of his football days—a feeling undoubtedly felt by every senior member of the club.

Carlson-elect Freihling then made his oratorical debut and extended his hope for a successful season under his tutelage.

The convocation ended with the singing of the Field Song, and thence passed into history another football season—gone but not forgotten.

Wartburg Faculty Ladies Hold World A-Fair Bazaar

Gaily Decorated Booths Offer Gift Items.

Former coaches, golfers, former tailors, Indian potteries, costume making and the distinctively American smell of hot dogs, peanuts, and popcorn combined to form a variety of food items for a good time for all at the faculty women's World A - Fair held Thursday evening, Dec. 2. Visitors were invited to a good time for all those interested in looking over the attractively decorated booths and occasionally reaching down into pockets or purses to purchase some interesting article which attracted the eye.

The Wartburg girls were a gay crowd, some spangled, some with colorful hats, all prettily dressed. In one corner, the white-sprezzed Coach Hertel

WARTBURG PLAYERS TO ENACT "THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN"

Ruth Fritz, Albert Schumacher, Ada Mae Little Take Leading Roles in Production.

"The Late Christopher Bean", the three-act drama which will be presented by the Wartburg Players, Friday evening, Dec. 17, has been acclaimed whenever it has been produced. It is a most diverting and entertaining play. With this as an incentive, the Wartburg cast, which has been in daily rehearsal for three weeks, is working hard to maintain the popularity of this well-known comedy, and expects to present "two delightful hours of refreshment and fun" to the students of Wartburg and residents of Waverly in two weeks.

Characters and Synopsis.

The line-up of the characters in the order of their appearance is as follows:

Dr. Haggatt—Albert Schumacher
Susan Haggatt—Eleanor Gross
Abby—Ruth Fritz
Mrs. Haggatt—Ada Mae Little
Walter—Werner Cremer
Tallant—Edgar Jepson
Rosene—Elmer Heinrich
Davenport—John H. Johnson
Professor Kuhmann—is directing the play and Harry Reppach is business manager.

The story is many clever situations and surprising twists of plot, is humorous throughout and is thoroughly happy and likable entertainment.

A painter named Christopher Bean had died in a New England village leaving only a few dirty pictures of himself and his wife. To his efforts to heal it was a mild surprise to Doctor Haggatt and his family when an old friend of Bean's dropped in and paid him off his old bill and only took away a couple of pictures as mementoes.

It was a bigger surprise when another old friend of Bean's turned up. He was Professor E. G. Davenport, a retired architect of the biggest of all, when a great New York art critic arrived to pay his respects to the memory of the dead artist.

What they learned that Christopher's dabs were worth a fortune—and how they secured to find out about it—was only the beginning. Always there is the fury and distress of minds under the tumult of action; always present, too, is the lovely, winsome girl, Abby, the servant girl, who had a pony and a dog, and a son, and a scurvy cause with Abby in the thick of it. And always in the scramble is the effect on the character of the old man, Dr. Haggatt, uppermost; always there is the fury and distress of minds under the tumult of action; always present, too, is the lovely, winsome girl, Abby, the servant girl, who had a pony and a dog, and a son, and a scurvy cause with Abby in the thick of it. And always in the scramble is the effect on the character of the old man, Dr. Haggatt,

LET US REMEMBER

Thus says our Lord Jesus in Matt. 18:20, "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them."

Three of our convocation assemblies during the week are religious in character. During these periods convocation hall is turned into a place of worship, and we gather there to sing God's praises and to hear His Word. Should not our actions be in accordance with this spirit of worship? Is it necessary for a loud chord to be struck on the piano to draw us to us? We do not find this to be the case in church. Why is it not possible for us, on those days when we have a religious service, to go outside to our places and bow our heads for a short time of prayer?

Let us, then, as individuals remember this and be an example to one another. May we suggest that the members of the Pro-The and L. S. A. A., our two religious organizations, take a lead in this matter at our next religious convocation? We believe a practice such as this will greatly add to our spirit of worship.

THINK IT OVER

Last spring the faculty considered combining Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations because of their proximity. However, as the teachers' convention at Luther Decades fell on a Friday during the days designed for Thanksgiving vacation, it was decided to make no change for the present.

The fact that this question was discussed by the faculty at that time might be put into effect next year should cause us to think about it. Do we want a longer Christmas vacation, so that our distant students shall not have to come back as soon as they get home; or do we want the regular Christmas and Thanksgiving vacations, so that students living near may go home twice? Let us consider this matter, so that we may acquaint the faculty with our wishes.

THREE CHEERS FOR THE DRAMATIC CLUB

In the selection of Sydney Howard's "The Late Christopher Bean" we see a turn in the tide of Dramatic club productions. Here we have not merely a foolish farce or a hair-raising thriller but an honest-to-goodness play—a play that is known far and wide and has met with great success.

A production of this type brings back memories of Wartburg's golden era of Shakespearean presentations and of the production some years ago of Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer". Let's have more and more of this worthwhile type of play. Greater benefit will be derived from them by both players and audiences and more prestige will be gained by the Dramatic club.

A PRAISEWORTHY INNOVATION

Several years ago the University of Iowa began an interesting experiment in its graduate college. It permitted candidates for advanced degrees to submit creative work in lieu of the conventional thesis. A graduate student majoring in music, for instance, might submit a musical composition; an English major might submit a novel, a group of short stories, or a drama.

The recent publications of the University of Iowa, Nos. 51 and 52 of "Series in Aims and Progress of Research," give some idea of the present stage of this experiment.

Listed among the approved candidates for the degree of doctor of philosophy are thirty-four who major in English, dramatic art, or music. Of these, twenty-four are submitting theses of the traditional type and ten creative work. Of these, candidates three are submitting novels; one, a group of folk tales; three, plays in groups of three; and three, musical compositions "in large form."

Running through the list of candidates for the master's degree, we find much the same situation.

When this experiment was begun, we greeted it with delight. The fact that almost a third of the candidates for advanced degrees in three fields are now doing creative work to qualify for the degree sought seems to indicate that this innovation has progressed beyond the experimental stage and that it has come to stay. We devoutly hope that it has.

Haefner Displays Printing Press at Round Table Meet

Dr. Haefner demonstrated his hobby of printing at the last meeting of the Round Table in Wartburg Hall. He pointed out that it is very difficult at present to procure a suitable press for this because of the competitive feature of all printing. Each member was permitted to print a copy of the Wartburg College Song. Erma Prokes also did a solo before the talk by Dr. Haefner.

Ariene Christensen, Gertrude Drost, Margaret Drost, and Eric Fiete became members of the society. Miss Drost was elected to the board of directors. Refreshments were served by Vician Gluck and her committee. The next meeting to be held is on Dec. 10 at 8 p.m., when the girls will go to a Christmas party. The four committees for that occasion will consist of Irene Gluck, Wilma Burack, Eric Fiete, and John Vagts.

"And a good time was had by all," seems quite appropriate as a heading for this week's turkey. The news is here if readers want instant explanations for the answers, and this column indicate a good time.

Take the latest Staeling edition, for instance, where Coach Roger Smith could not be reached Monday morning instead of in the Zoo Inn. "Hoops and Kalkwarf didn't even get back in time to tell us anything. The former high schooler, who has 400 miles to his credit, just to see the old friend. The latter went home for the girl friend just to see him. Heinrich's mother was sick with a sprained knee so he had to ride in the front seat with her." Pop all the way to Illinois. On the way back he had better luck—he got to sit in the back seat again. In the same car was George G. Roeter better find out why she suddenly decided to go home... "Kirch" spent his vacation at the beach with his mother. He says it was her cousins. The quadrangle alliance broke Wartburg connections long enough to celebrate in between. The Krollins had a good time well, they forged a friendly engagement with Oppie, so poor Oppie has no excuse to lay off work Saturday afternoon. The Wartburg clinic, Krollin's namesake clinic, was sadly deserted during vacation. Only three eligible remained to attract the attention of some thirty Grossmanns and Ambassadors.... ## Diogenes' Questionnaire

By Ruth Fritz

On what I learned about some people this week! This is turning out to be more fun than I anticipated. My question is: Who are the Gentlemen Prefer Blondes and I learned that on the whole our Wartburg men are the most attractive there with the exception of one.

Chadwick being one of them. He definitely prefers blondes. Why?

"Well, there's only one reason. You see, girls' blonder."

He means like blonde hair. The fact that she's blonde. Well no, said smiling Dave, "I like her, because she's blonde."

He means blonde hair. I guess she's blonde.

The Traveling staff did send her a copy of this paper. That statement is worth it.

La Verne Meinken: "I don't care for blonde women, perhaps because I don't. Of course

"After a moment's reflection, I've got my own definition of a blonde. This makes me feel more at ease, especially when the definition has a name, wherupon

Mr. Meinken became strangely silent and blissfully thoughtful.

He said, "The definition of a blonde is sort of in-between and forty cal. Three guesses allowed!

Les Holm's first comment:

"They get dry quicker. So you ought to know I don't prefer blondes anyway!" Oh no? I ask,

with visions of a certain fairy like head of the same family

but I must call her blonde, answered Lewis.

Wafer Schmitz: I should have known better than to come to the library to study with you around.

Regardless of the response, I repeated the question and was told, "I prefer blondes are scarce and always like something else is hard to get, something different you know."

Clarence Bodike: I had been talking a lot lately about

Clarence, I think, even though related to this week's question, so he was the next person on the list.

By the way, he has his head shaved and dressed so prettily. I am lured to the right individual.

"Oh, I'd prefer not to subject myself to that.... I think that's too personal a question....

I wouldn't want to get myself into hot water...." But, er—

I guess the eye does the talking for a man. Ah ha! Clarence!

It is time about the trip to McMenamin's.

There are two fellows on this campus who deserve to be led out at dawn, or something—Wilmuth Fruehling and Carl Ehrmeyer. Fruehling and Ehrmeyer can take care of themselves, do prefer blondes, I don't say, but, um, And what about you, boys? "Oh, and our pal very simply, for the same reason people prefer pumpkin pie, or hot dogs or something."

Sold Ehrmeyer: "An honest gentleman doesn't prefer blondes because they're usually too wild!" Go and get him blondes!

Herman Senft always such an obliging little chap, was prepared to answer my question, but I declined with thanks, asking for only a few well-chosen statements such as: "Well, it's a well-known fact that blondes haven't got a temperature, that dark people usually include..." Furthermore, blondes can wear clothes much better than brunettes. At this point the whole just began to get out of hand, so I managed to get in a last remark, however: "But anyway, my dad told me never to go with a blonde, so all that I said don't count!"

On Wednesday, Dec. 1, the Wartburg chapel choir under F. G. Ehrmeyer presented a short concert of sacred songs during the convection service. The selections were "Christmas Is Coming," "The Old Folks at Home," "Klang" and "Christians' Prayer." "Sing to the Lord!" The program ended with the student body joining the chorus in singing the college song.

The Freda-Joengen Drewelow, Amanda Walk, and Norma Neupauer sang on Monday evening Nov. 29, at the Waverly men's club. Thursday night they sang at the Brotherhood meeting at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Rosamund Ehrmeyer, accompanied by Ernie Plotter, sang two selections at the meeting of the Women's Club Monday night.

L. S. A. A. HEARS OF CONVENTION

Members Give Reports on National Gathering at Recent Meeting.

The Wartburg college chapter of the L. S. A. A. held its regular meeting in Wartburg hall, Sunday evening, Nov. 21, with Eugene Leschenzky presiding.

Besides transacting the regular business, the group decided to hold "fellowship supper" each evening before the meeting. Committees were to be appointed to take care of the refreshments. The expenses of these suppers are to be met by a small fee from each member participating.

Following the business meeting interesting reports were given by a number of the members who had attended the national convention held at Minneapolis. Winslow, Nov. 12 and 14. Thelma Doyen gave a short report on their experiences and the proceedings of the three-day convention. A short report on the inspection meeting theme, "Lutheran Youth in Action," was given by LaVerne Meinecke. Waynesburg, Pa. Stories concerning Jesus were discussed by Amanda Walk, who had attended the forum on "How Can We Help Others to Be Christians?" Sigurd Kuester, a representative of Christian Friendship, Courtship, and Marriage; Clarence Bodtke, Clarence Pries, Norma Neubauer, and Miss Mary Borchert, who represented the group, gave short talks in which they told of benefits they received from the convention.

At the next meeting, "Movies" will be the subject for discussion. Special attention is to be given to the influence of movies on youth and to the attitude of the church toward this form of entertainment.

Danish Speaker Discusses War With Students

From first-hand experience as a non-combatant during the World War, Mr. Henry Thompson of Denmark addressed the convocation audience on the causes and results of the World War, last Monday morning.

"Why did you folks come over?" he asked. "I believe you said 'to save democracy.' I think it was to protect the billions of people few men had invented," he continued, answering his own question.

During the entire talk he stressed the point that the masses were responsible for the war, and the nation of the war. Even today the motives for our entrance into the war have been lost in a flood of political talk.

"People are sanguine about peace and preparing for war," he concluded. "Wars have been as long as living beings have lived, and will continue as long as human beings live."

Oscar the Nitwit Says:

I've been wandering around home lately and I can't seem to keep from hearin' them! For instance, Dr. Hitler's menu deserves a golden star. When he backs up, he says he eats some beans, it is time to eat beans, then he chews herring until he feels like a fish, and then he purchases blutwurst and fixes jacketed pot-

musical selections by various folk soloists. ## JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

"Remember God" Theme of Address By Rev. Broyles

Believing that divine aid alone can solve the problems confronting us, the Rev. Albert O. Broyles, pastor of the First Baptist church at Plainfield, urged that we seek God's help in troubled hearts as well as knees in his chapel lecture Tuesday, Nov. 23.

"The humiliation of increasing crime, the threat of world economic distress, the should draw us to our knees in despair. Maybe then we would be willing to let His rule in our hearts," he stated.

Pastor Broyles pointed out that the duties of the last generation in its duty to God and to man; how it failed to maintain the foundation the Bible on which our country was originally founded.

"How may we still remember God as they gather around the Thanksgiving tables this year?" he demanded. "We must love our nation and even die for it, but we have many of the bad improvements been made by such sturdy men."

Again and again he urged the need for sincere prayer, always holding up the dismal picture the future holds if we do not do our divine obligation before going in the course of events.

He closed by saying, "Wretched men that we are, yet God gave us the same God who raised Jesus from the dead will revive our sick nation, if we pray the prayer of faith."

Missionary Society Members Move Museum to New Home

Hope to Classify New Guinea Items Before Spring.

(By August Engelbrecht) Preliminary arrangement of specimens in the New Guinea Museum of the American Lutheran Church has been made. Wartburg Seminary has been completed.

This project was undertaken by the Missionary Society of Wartburg Seminary in the spring of 1937. At the time the project was undertaken, museum specimens were kept in a small room whose size did not permit simple display. After consultation with the Rev. Dr. G. A. Wenninger, pastor of the Wartburg Seminary, it was decided to move the museum to a large, well lighted room, which is of sufficient size to accommodate the collection. In the fall of 1937, specimens and cases were moved to the new quarters. This fall several members of the Missionary Society utilized their spare time in making a preliminary arrangement of objects. Before the end of winter it is hoped that final arrangements of objects will be completed and that ample descriptive and identifying material will be provided.

The purpose of this collection at the official New Guinea Museum of the American Lutheran Church is to awaken interest in the New Guinea Mission Field and to provide a central dependency for specimens from the field. At present many objects intended for this museum have stopped along the way, but efforts are in progress to gather these interesting specimens and bring them to the central museum. It is also hoped that additional specimens will be sent from the field to fill out the collection.

The Missionary Society further plans to collect the best pictures taken on the mission field and to have them enlarged, mounted, and filed so that all interested may have access to them.

FORD offers two new cars for 1938—the Standard Ford V-8 and the De Luxe Ford V-8. They are different in appearance—but built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence—on the same chassis.

Because people liked our 1937 car so well, they bought more than of any other make. They liked its looks, its smooth performance, and the way it handled. We have improved on that car in the newly styled Standard Ford V-8.

But some folks wanted still more size and style, with the same Ford advantages. For them, we designed a new De Luxe line.

The De Luxe Ford V-8 Sedans are longer with more room, larger luggage space, and finer appointments all around.

De Luxe cars are equipped with the 85-horsepower engine only.

The Standard is even lower priced than the De Luxe. It has graceful new lines and well-tailored interiors—with a choice of engine sizes—58 or 60 horsepower.

Before Ford made V-8 engines available to every one, they were used only in expensive cars. Since then, four million Ford owners have learned the genuine enjoyment of driving on eight-cylinder car with all-around economy. The thrifty '60' engine, especially, makes possible in Standard models a very low first cost and equally low operating cost. With two distinct designs, two engine sizes and two price ranges, you'll find a 1938 Ford car to fit your needs exactly.

Should We Flood Our Courts or A Winter Skating Rink?

arding to a petition drawn up by students, a skating rink or court would be interested in building. During the winter months when other sports are lax, there should be given an opportunity to get them started again. In growing there is no ice-skating except on the Cedar river. The distance to get there is great. Furthermore, river ice makes skating a treacherous skating. Tennis courts are close enough for the students, and because of the winds provided by the gymnasium in the Main Building, it would be a good idea to have a majority of the students on campus work. There is no skating rink either?

GRID SEASON REACHES CLOSE

Member of Squad Submits Following Brief Resume of Games Played.

As always is the case there was the usual amount of early seasonal predictions concerning chances of a successful season. Coach Hertel's call for football men was to make the nucleus left from last year, transfer students, and freshmen.

If the students offer to do the "upkeep" work, could the college afford to let them? If they do it, would the students who skate be able to suggest means by which the college would take care of the work?

Practicing in was tried two years ago and proved impractical. Do this year's students depend upon the recent "scientific developments" to make this year's football a success?

Tennis courts were constructed for tennis. Why not construct a separate skating rink, even if we can't expect to have it this year?

Students are interested in becoming charter members of this organization or gain more information concerning it are asked to get in touch with one of the faculty members or membership committee as soon as possible.

est predictions from a careful scanning of the victim's hand. The display of Catawba Indian pottery was presented by another drawing end. Madeline Schlueter, Neumann and Wiederschneidt presided over the display of canned goods. The women of the South Carolina Indians, German women, cookies and other pastries completed the palate at another table where Miss Carr, Mrs. E. G. Hertel and Miss Edna Stansak, head of the college home economics department, offered their wares. A great array of tempting delicacies was a deposit of steady through the evening.

Fishing in Winter

The fish-pond attracted the usual number of unvary ones, and many and varied were the treasures pulled from the depths. Prof. Dr. G. J. Olson was in charge of the boath, serving in the place of Miss Carr, education teacher who was forced to be absent. The fisherman, using a hand-furnished spinning wheel, deftly handled by Mrs. Aardal, started to Prof. Aardal of the Wartburg faculty, was featured in the November issue of table manners, and other woven goods. Mrs. E. Lienman assisted.

Hailing from way down south on the Texas coast, Prof. Dr. H. W. Hertel, right at home in the Mexico house, where striking colors galore met the eye. Finally in the northeast corner, Miss K. E. Thorne, Miss M. L. Johnson, Mrs. J. C. Cheleveil were kept busy preparing hot dogs to quench the crowd's puns of hunger.

Musical numbers were interspersed throughout the evening. Miss Ann Aardal offered a vocal solo and Bill Welschberger gave a cornet selection. Bonnie Chubert, Anna Schlueter and Mrs. J. C. Cheleveil were kept busy playing a piano solo, and Viola Clegg, accompanied with an accordion number.

The faculty furnishing committee which sponsored the event is composed of Miss K. E. Thorne, Mrs. J. C. Cheleveil, Mrs. H. J. Kuhmeyer and Mrs. A. Hertel. Proceeds from the sale will be used to defray the expense of the new fire screen to replace the Wartburg one, which has been returned by the Women's Missionary Federation.

WRITES ARTICLE

Coach E. Hertel discusses state of athletics at Lutheran colleges in a current issue of Lutheran Standard.

After two weeks of practice, the team met Estes Jr., coach of the Waverly City football team, at the high school. What was needed was interference, drive and tighter defense. The score stood 0-0. Next, Gracewood had scored their first touchdown, which set the Knights back on their heels. The score really does not tell the whole story of this game, however. It was a game shrouded with passes—intercepts that put the boys on the spot.

The Waukon Jr. college game was canceled. However, a game was a go, so the boys who planned to play for the first conference game at Okoboji against Penn college. It was the "Quakers" homecoming game. Head coaches sat in their nests and set to work determined to win their first conference game. Within scoring distance and clicking like mad, the Knights' Knights then scored more than once to score, only to be set back by penalties and fumbles. The teams played to a scoreless tie, although they found they could score three times with a victory if they had worked together better on the last drive.

Beat Miners.

Then homecoming game by Waukon Jr. college, exhibition of football for the year. In this game the boys made 17 first downs to the Miners' single four. Shortly after the game was stolen, the ball was within the 10-yard line. The Knights gave a good show of a touchdown play. "Chic" Wagner scooted out wide and went across the middle and went over the goal line unopposed. Then again in the second half, the boys pushed over a touchdown in a line play. After Stanek intercepted a pass, the boys drove over another tally with Ellermeier taking the ball. The extra points were also converted. This was our last game.

At Fort Dodge, a week later, the boys ran into an entirely different type of team. The Dodgeites came in line of scrimmage with deadly precision until the Knights could accustom themselves to a hard hitting team coming in with the rate of slow "downs" type, with which they had encountered before. Only for an intercepted pass which was beautifully run back by Batterly or Fort Dodge, the ball was carried over for a touchdown, the game was fought on even terms.

At Buena Vista, we might say

The curtain has again fallen on another great football season. Belts and shoulder pads, streaked arms and faded jerseys will be stowed away for another year. Looking at the record of wins and losses, we do not know which team won naturally hope to find. The books show only one victory. Perhaps that seems rather disappointing, but first place doesn't let us down.

Football is only one phase of our athletic program. Let us compensate, as the schoolboard says, by excelling our efforts during the coming basketball season. Let's hit on our belts, flex our muscles, and resolve to make the best of it. Let's not have failed to do before. Let us not bemoan the past football season; do not "grin" about the shortcomings of the team. Let us rather give credit to Coaches Hertel and Huth, to Captain Kuester, and to our football team for trying their best to complete a successful gridiron year. There is always consciousness in a task well done whether the results are victory or defeat.

A Good Punter

The fine kicking of Emmons during the past grid season is worth a mention. At the time John joined the team out of many a tough spot by his long punts. In the Buena Vista game, he aver-aged 40 yards per punt. While in the Dubuque game his median was forty-nine yards in spite of the adverse field conditions. Johnnie's educated toe also converted two of the extra points during the Homecoming game.

"Sam the Cornhusker"

In reporting past deeds of our Knights, we should not forget "Sam." Especially that plump, hard-hitting fullback, who cracked the line of scrimmage ever and again, making a hole wide enough for the gridiron. Sam's median was forty-nine yards in spite of the adverse field conditions. Johnnie's educated toe also converted two of the extra points during the Homecoming game.

Tough Luck, Wally

Our basketball team will be forced to play the first two games without the aid of one very important individual, Walter Leutkins. Wally has suffered a torn knee ligament, which has forced the doctor to wrap it in ten yards and yards of bandage, making a look at him like looking at a gopher in the vegetable garden. What a move! Wally greatly resents having everybody ask him how it all happened. Wally is neither a religious man, nor you know, a religious man, so I hope that he will be able to participate in the Dubuque games since last year's fans know that his shifty moves, mischievous and clever gift of gab are very disconcerting to the opponents.

Honorable Mention

Norbert Auer of Montezuma, Minn., and John Funnens, Nashua, Iowa, were both named as worthy of honorable mention on the Iowa

All-Conference ratings as released by the judges during this past week. Noble played tackle and was also a letter winner last year. Norbert is a hard-charging lineman, and is especially good in defensive work. He has stopped a ball earlier this season.

Norse is a good football player but is exceedingly modest about his talents.

Johnnie has been the spark-plug on the football backfield. His running, punting, and passing has been outstanding. He has been the Hertelman during the past year. This is Johnnie's second year of varsity competition, and we should see great things from him during the remainder of the basketball season. These two men are only sophomores, one can certainly expect them to develop into some mighty gridiron stars.

It is interesting to note that Wartburg is the for an Iowa Conference champion!

Something "Fisby."

Reading the sports records, I found that Buena Vista defeated the Harlem Globetrotters in an exhibition game by a comfortable margin. The game was the one in which the Dukes handled the ball last year against the Knights. I began to wonder if the team which had been so successful would be as personally as the one which literally ran circles around our hapless players. Perhaps they figured it was about time to let us see too much merchandise and thus discourage prospective opponents and fans. You know, it is such a thrill to become too popular. At least, that part of the little item ought to refresh the memories of various team members who played during the very early days of the game. Opportunity still abounds under the ignominy of chasing a dusky magician of the court who couldn't even have the ball.

Cystal Gazing

At this point I shall take it upon myself to prognosticate a bit. I shall try to emulate "Our Man in the Mirror" who used to hang behind the curtain to future sporting events and forecast the outcome. I can not hope to be as accurate with him as he was in the best once in a while—race in a blue moon, perhaps. If I am lucky, and after peering into the crystal ball, I may be able to predict the remaining games before Christmas. Lenox, Lacombe, and Dubuque U. will fall before the second week of December. Colfax will spoil the record of three victories by defeating the Knights. If I am wrong, don't indict me but blame the crystal which revealed these facts to me.

And so, adios, until Monday night when we shall get our first taste of action in the first game of the season—ON TO VICTORY YE KNIGHTS OF THE COURT!

We notice that teachers are also susceptible to little ailments such as colds. The latest on that list is our psychology teacher, Prof. A. E. Feltz.

KNIGHTS TO OPEN CAGE CARD WITH LENOX B. B. TEAM

Hertelman To Open Season With Many Veterans Back.

The Knights will open the basketball season next Monday evening when they play the Lewis boys' quintet from Hopkinton, Iowa. This is a non-conference encounter and will furnish Coach Hertel an opportunity for testing his new system. He will be able to put up a suitable combination to pit against the strong Iowa conference for which the Knights will play this year.

The team has been working hard for the past two weeks and should be in top shape for the season's opener, and they should experience success in defeating the Lenox aggregation.

Lenox has what might be termed a small but fast and shifty team. They have two freshmen back, the last year's team which won the summer tourney in the Northeastern Iowa Junior college conference. Two years ago, the Knights opened the season with a loss to Lenox, but last year, the Knights crushed the "Crimson Tide" 33 to 24. In that game, Harden tallied nine points and Leutkins seven. Expect a similar effort and a win or surpass that again. Wally, unfortunately, will keep out of the game by injury to his right hand.

And, finally, the opening game blows next Monday evening, let every Wartburg student user in the 1937-38 basketball season with a mighty cheer that will shake the very foundations of the building. More power to our cage squad and may they make a name for themselves in the Iowa conference!

Wilfred Freyling, junior, was elected captain of next year's football team by the members of this year's squad. Wilfred had, from Johnson, the most playing time on the grid team. He played one year at Hermon and one year at State Teachers before he came to Wartburg this fall. He is a good player, a fine Freshman, and best wishes for a successful football season next fall, and keep your weather eye peeled for that Iowa Conference championship, at least runner-up?

Coach Huth Has Outlined a Definite Cage Program for Wartburg Men.

The basketball intramurals will get underway next week. We shall see those flashing, dashing, smashing, stars of last year in action, as well as some of the Freshmen, who have been on the edge. Even the faculty has decided to enter into the spirit of things by selecting a fighting team of huskies to compete in the honor of a championship. Seven teams have been chosen from the entries submitted to Coach Huth. They are the Alaskans, the Canadians, the Germans, the Mexicans, the Porta Ricans and the Americans. The captains of the teams are: Fritschel, Koob, Fredrickson, Kuester, Ihm and Dr. Wagner, respectively. The future cannot seem to decide just which of the speed demons is capable of leading the team, but probably Professor Fritschel will be the leader from the bench.

The first games will be played Monday afternoon. The first between the Alaskans and Canadian.

Ats from seven-minute quarters, the games will be played according to the regular college rules.

Each team will play each of the other teams twice in the course of the season, so there will be plenty of basketball for those interested.
